About the Conference:

The world of teaching in educational discourse is increasingly transformed by new technologies and continuous innovation that evolve into a system to accredit knowledge and skills. This educational scenario needs to adopt a new pace and culture system where learning will be peaceful enjoyment rather than violence. 'E-learning has moved from formal & information to a much more informal, integrated type of learning. Education is considered as an essential tool for skills resource development. Recently digital technology has changed the education scenarios in educational Institution by enhancing teaching and learning research and governance are the subject matter of discussion at the International Conference.

About the Educational Developmental Council:

The Educational Developmental Council (EDC) Patna, Bihar, India is educational organization registered with the Government of Bihar, Patna to promote quality education, beginning from school to University in teaching and research. The EDC promote value education through regular based training, workshop, seminars and symposium. The EDC aware teachers and academicians for social and educational crisis. The council is motivating for cultural education along with skill development and job-oriented education.

About Nalanda:

Nalanda is one of the historical land in the world map. Nalanda was an acclaimed Mahavihara, a large Buddhist monastery in the ancient kingdom of Magadha in India. Nalanda had been an ancient hub of learning and a religious centre that imparted manifold knowledge. This place is located about 95 kilometres southeast of Patna. It was a centre of learning from the fifth century CE to 1200 CE. UNESCO has dedicated World Heritage Site. The highly formalized methods of Vedic learning inspired the establishment of large teaching institutions such as Takshila, Nalanda, and Vikramashila which are often characterized as India's early Universities.
